Burgundy Beirut:
Burgundy: "We start where others stop."

Founded by 5 wine enthusiasts, Edmond, Henri and Karl Asseily, Youssef Kamel and Ziad Mouawad, Burgundy was born in February 2010, with an innate character representing glamour, flair and sophistication like no other wine bar and restaurant. Nestled in the heart of the Beirut, Burgundy was named so as a tribute to the sensational French wines and above all to the Burgundy wines that only so many can appreciate and understand.

Burgundy is home to a refined clientele seeking some pleasure, provocation, knowledge and superiority. It's a place designed with special attention to detail. The kitchen and especially the infrastructure meet the highest standards and requirements of chefs. The Molteni installed in the basement is hardly the tip of the iceberg. The dining room is illustrated with a pure and elegant style adorned by a spirit of modernity in which metal, wood and concrete set the right mood.

Burgundy is a contrast of modernity and authenticity. At the entrance, a small space is devoted to assist avid wine enthusiasts to the marvelous wine cellar in order to purchase the best wine selections that can be savored in style at home or at our lavish dining room. Then, in this very chic atmosphere, we are pleased to welcome customers seeking gratification, challenge and knowledge.

Thanks to the chef Youssef Akiki and his professional team, the succulent items on the tasting menu couldn't be more successful, unique and attractive. Burgundy offers contemporary French cuisine with an international inspiration. The chef prepares delicious servings prepared with care using exceptional ingredients. Our products are carefully selected with no compromise or exception, and we are constantly on the lookout for new flavors and original ingredients.

Unlike others, we dare to think outside the box. We invite you to do the same and join us in this extraordinary adventure.

Mathieu SA, Vins fins d'origine:

For 35 years already, Mathieu SA has been renowned in Switzerland for its importation of quality wines. It has been the bridge between vintners and lovers of authentic and quality wines. Thirty-five years of sharing with wine lovers the pleasure of new discoveries, of providing guidance and advice. Certainly, the great wines of which we are the exclusive agent make up an important part, but they co-exist happily with more humble and lesser-known appellations with inspiring stories and passionate people.

The proven criteria for our research have not changed and the discipline to which we hold ourselves accountable in selecting our wines is even stricter. We accept only the highest caliber wines without concession. This same attention is given to entry-level wines as well as to Grands Crus. Small (or very small) yields are privileged as well as wines that are the product of viticulture, which is respectful of both man and the environment. The most renowned tables in the country have given us their confidence and we hope you will as well.
